

MEDICAL STUDENT MEMBERS INVOLVED IN ACP

Council of Student Members Call for Nominations

The American College of Physicians (ACP) strives to represent the diversity within medical student member population in filling open seats on the Council of Student Members (CSM). The CSM is responsible for responding to requests from the Board of Regents, committees and staff for review of programs, products and services, and advising the Board of Regents and Board of Governors.

- x Promoting internal medicine as a career
- x Increasing the value of ACP membership to medical students
- x Strengthening chapter and medical school level activities
- x Aligning council activities and in good academic standing throughout your time on the CSM.

To be an effective council member you must commit to: ACP Internal Medicine Meeting 2023 is being held in San Diego, CA from April 27-29.

Participating in Internal Medicine Meetings during your term including attendance at CSM meetings and facilitation of medical student activities as appropriate, during the meeting.

Traveling to Philadelphia once each year, as appropriate for a council meeting and participating in several additional virtual meetings. The CSM in person meeting is typically held in August.

Possibly serving as the medical student representative on one of the College's committees

 . Serving on a committee will require at least one additional trip to Philadelphia or Washington, D.C.

- x Adhering to ACP's Disclosure of Interest and Management of Conflicts Policy and disclosing any relevant interests via the Association of American Medical Colleges (AAMC) CONVEY system for council participation
- x Spending approximately 1-2 hours bimonthly on council activities. Anticipated activities in which council members may participate include:
 - o Identifying and developing educational programming for medical students who attend ACP Internal Medicine Meetings

